WHAT IS A FINANCIAL SERVICES GUIDE (FSG)

The Financial Services Guide (FSG) is an important document that is designed to help you decide whether to use the financial services offered. The main purpose of the Financial Services Guide (FSG) is to give you an overview of the financial services that are being offered and it provides you with the following information:

- About us;
- What kinds of financial services we are authorised to provide to you;
- The process we follow to provide financial services;
- How we, our Authorised Representatives (and any other relevant persons) are remunerated;
- Are there any of our associations or relationships that might influence the financial services we offer?
- How we collect, use and disclose the information you provide to us
- Our complaints handling procedures and external dispute resolution procedures including how you can access them.

The terms Representative, Authorised Representative, Corporate Authorised Representative, and Advice Provider means that a person, or entity, is authorised to represent a business that holds an Australian Financial Services (AFS) licence. Boz Cue Pty Ltd is the holder of an AFS Licence and is therefore responsible for the financial services provided, including the distribution of this Financial Services Guide (FSG).

THE PROCESS WE FOLLOW TO PROVIDE FINANCIAL SERVICES

Your adviser acts as our Authorised Representative when providing personal advice to you and therefore we are responsible for any advice given. Your adviser is under an obligation to act in your best interests in relation to any personal advice provided to you (known as the 'best interest duty').

Your adviser is authorised by us to give you personal advice, but in order for them to do so, you need to provide them with information about your needs, goals and objectives. If you choose not to provide your adviser with this information, any advice they provide may not be appropriate to your needs.

PROVIDING YOUR ADVISER WITH INSTRUCTIONS ON HOW TO BUY OR SELL FINANCIAL PRODUCTS.

You may specify how you would like to give your adviser instructions, for example, in writing, by telephone, fax or other means. However, in some instances your adviser will require your instructions to be in writing. For your own protection, you should not:

It will also set out information about our remuneration and your adviser's remuneration and disclose any associations or relationships which might reasonably be expected to influence them when providing the advice. Any subsequent personal advice that is provided to you may, if it is in relation that has already been provided to you, be documented in an ROA, provided there has not been a significant change in your personal circumstances or the basis upon which the initial advice was provided. Copies of all advice documents will be retained on your client file and you may request a copy by contacting your adviser.
- A Product Disclosure Statement (PDS).
If a particular financial product (other than securities) is recommended by your adviser you must also be provided with a PDS issued by the product issuer. The PDS contains information about the benefits, risks and other features of the product, which will enable you to make an informed decision about whether to purchase the product.
